Friends provide the glitter in life.

Time slips away so quickly. You look back and wonder, where has everything gone. The friends you promised you'd always keep in touch with. What happened to them? We all thought that our years in high school would last forever

These may be the happiest years of our lives, but they are also filled with many new and sometimes frightening changes. We graduate with mixed feelings. We want to grow, become an adult. Yet we don't want to leave the security of our youth. There are many childhood possessions that we secretly hesitate to give up, even though outwardly we long to be considered adult.

As much as we would like to, we can never stop or speed up the passage of time. As you look back on your high school years, remember the happy times you spent with your friends.

Friendships grow.

Deep within the earth a lump of carbon is slowly transformed into a glittering diamond. Subjected to the intense heat and pressure of the earth it grows stronger with each passing year. So too with friendships. Begun in childhood subjected to the pressures of growing up, growing stronger with each passing year. Not every lump of carbon withstands the pressure to become a diamond; not every relationship withstands the strain to become a friendship. But when they do; you have something precious.

Everyone's a winner during homecoming.

Many hours of hard work and late nights were spent to make the perfect float. In one sense each class was a winner. Every calss, except seniors, worked long and hard, and cooperated together to produce some of the best floats seen at Armijo.

It was a quiet homecoming; raids on floats and other spirit week pranks were kept to a minimum. "Nerd Day" was the most popular costume day of the week. The parade went very well, no rain, and an enthusiastic crowd.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY

Our Indians fought an exciting battle during the Football Home-coming game, but victory was not completely ours. Our J.V. "Indies" scalped our cross-county rival, the Vallejo Apaches, with an outstanding score of 28-7, although our Varsity Indians were defeated, after a terrific struggle, 24-13.

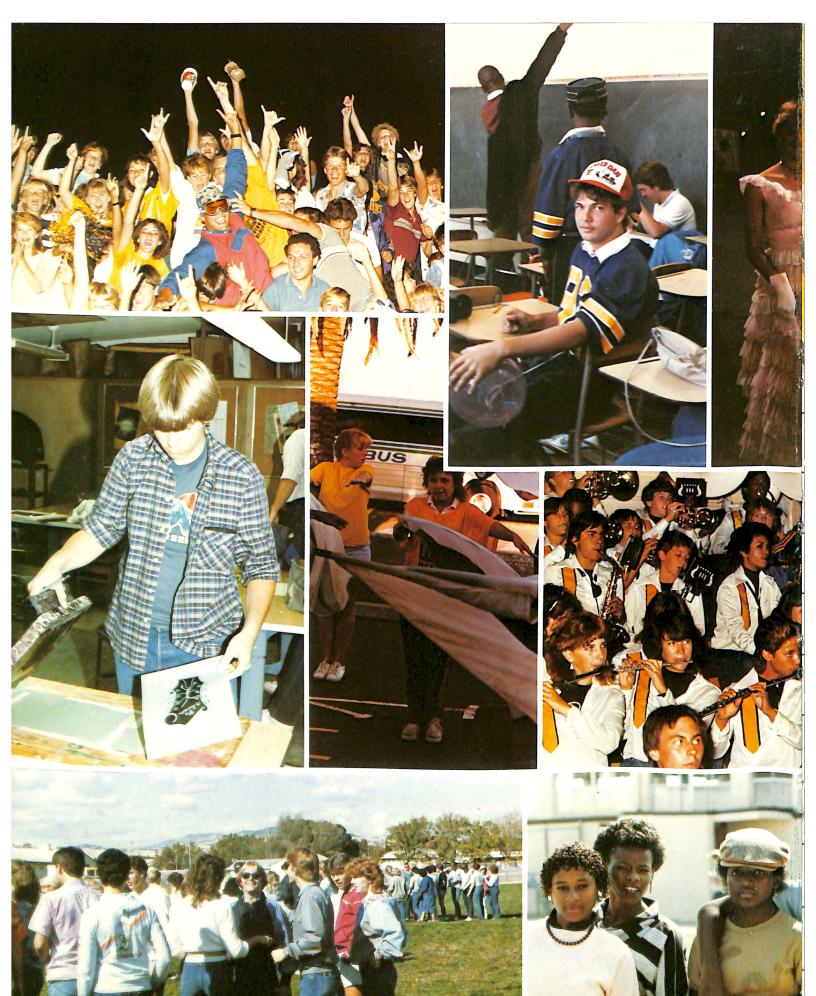

Our Armijo Superband entertained the crowd between games with popular tunes and a float competition was also held. The sophomores took 1st place, Juniors 2nd, frosh 3rd, and our Seniors, well, they decided to give the underclassmen a chance by not entering the contest.

Lastly, our Homecoming King and Queen and attendants were chosen, with Toni Hilger as queen, Carlton Bush as king. Senior attendants were Donna Fuston-John Peterson; juniors, Cathy Huliganga-Galen Lawton: sophomores, Tanya Johnson-Guy Delorifice; freshmen, Dawn Delorifice-Greg Lim.

Student Life . . . facets of the diamond.

Many faceted is an apt description of the high school years. There are classes taken every year. Friendships which are made and broken. There are extra-curricular activities such as football games and homecoming parades. There are rallies and assemblies, and clubs such as FFA, BSu and Fil-Am. There are teams to try out for and cheerleader tryouts. Many students are attracted to band or ROTC. Elective classes in art, music, and shop give students a chance to explore their creative talents.

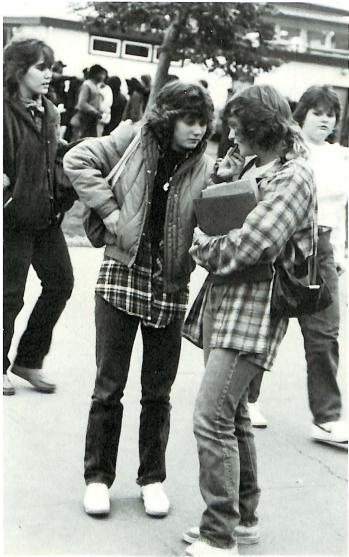

Then there is detention in SAC, midterms and finals, short lunch periods, and lockers that won't open. Early morning P.E., foods class right after lunch, crowded busses face students throughout the year. Cold, windy, rainy mornings and the long wet race from main campus to the Annex. Student days are made up of many parts.

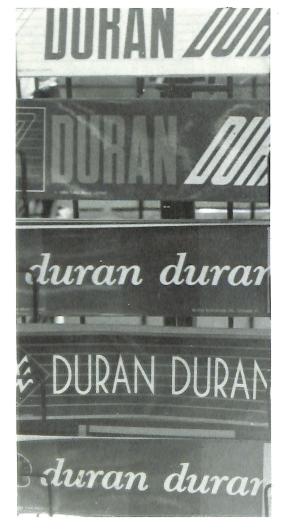

Student Opinion Poll

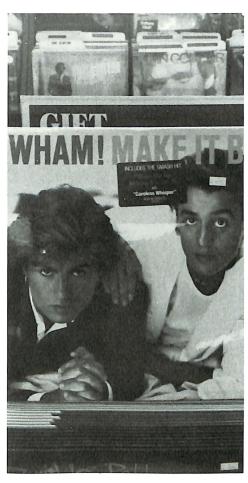

The La Mezcla staff polled many students on their favorites and least favorites of the 1984-85 year; here are the results.

Armijo students enjoyed Music Video and many favored the video, "Careless Whispers" by WHAM!, over the least favorite, "Born in the U.S.A." by the boss, Bruce Springstein.

The most liked song was "You're the Inspiration" by Chicago, and the least liked song was Michael Jackson's 83-84 hit, "Beat It."

New Wave took a tremendous step ahead within the Armijo music era with Duran Duran leading the pack as the favorite musical group. Trailing behind, as least favorite, were the Jacksons.

Levi's 501's remained as the most favored clotheswear. Although fluorescent colors became a stylish hit at Armijo, many chose to remain more conservative and polled Neons as their least favorite clotheswear.

Favorite slang words varied, but "bogas" was the most liked. "Fresh" was the least liked

"Beverly Hills Cop" won the most favored movie by a landslide, and caught in the mud was "Supergirl."

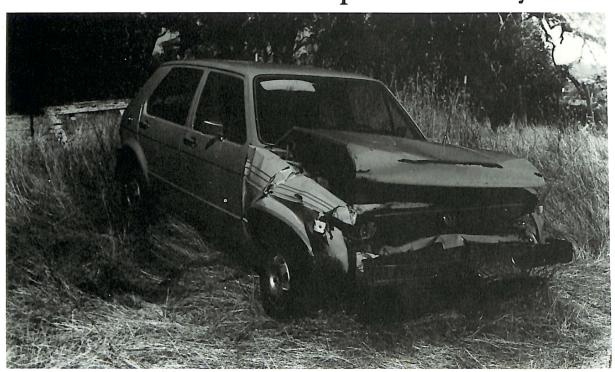

Favorite foods for Armijo students was pizza, and "veggies" were way off the list of favorites. Most liked fast food stop was Burger King, and the least liked was Beamer's, even with its 32¢ hamburgers!

And for the least favorite football team, it was the Miami Dolphins, thus leaving the most favored to the San Francisco 49ers!

Driver's Education emphasizes safety first.

- 1. Don't drink and drive, a cliche that is too true.
- 2. Joseph Ona studies hard to pass the class
- 3. Gene Gallegos pays close attention to the lecture.
- 4. To pass Dr. Ed. you need good driving habits.
- 5. Visual aids help you remember the dos and don'ts of driving.

Mocassin Tracks

Two California All-American musicians and 1984 Rose Queen Kristina Kaye Smith celebrated the new year today with their appearance in the famed Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, California.

Heidi Amstutz of Valencia, and Armijo's Bruce Walton performed in the holiday parade as members of the 1984 McDonald's All-American Marching Band, comprised of two outstanding high school musicians from each state and the District of Columbia, plus one member each from the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, and for the first time, Guam.

Under rhe direction of Dr. William Foster, Director of bands at Florida A & M University, the McDonald's All-American Band made its 16th appearance in the nationally televised event, watched by millions of parade spectators and NBC-TV, CBS-TV and Metromedia network audiences. The All-American Band also performed in the Fiesta Bowl Parade on December 29th in Phoenix, Arizona.

Robots. The name conjures up strange science fiction creations and outlandish cartoon characters, Voltron and the Transformers. Robotics, the study and use of robots, is a lot more real than that. As they say, the future is now.

Robots are beginning to play an important part in industry. They are working on factory assembly lines and in places too dangerous for human beings. A good example is the smelting furnaces of Pittsburg where robots are used to shovel ore into the furnaces. Temperatures get far too hot for human beings. Robots are used on auto assembly lines doing boring jobs with great accuracy.

Armijo has a teaching robot which is used in the electronics classes for training in robot maintenance and repair. Even though robots are replacing man in some areas, now jobs are opening up in the construction, repair and maintenance of the new robots. Mr. Berry is teaching his advanced electronics students how to program and repair the robot model.

Computers, computers, everywhere you look there are computers. Computers are used in business classes, math classes, science classes, English classes, shop classes, and home ec classes. Everyone is getting into the act.

Mr. Shepard is head of the new but growing computer department at Armijo. Under his leadership the department is growing by leaps and bounds. Students can take a variety of computer classes: Intro, beginning, and intermediate computers, beginning programming, word processing to mention a few. The most popular computers are the Apple 2e, and the TR-80.

- 7. Louise Bradley warms up for practice.

And the band plays on.

Under the direction of Mr. Bunselmeier, a student may take part in a variety of musical experiences. There is beginning and intermediate band, jazz ensemble, symphony band, and the marching band. Along with the marching band is the attached unit, girls who handle the flags, letters and other visuals used by the band.

- The bands waits for practice to begin.
   Derek Verble practices his music.
   Mike Kendall plays first trombone.
   Mr. Bunselmeier explains a musical passage.
   Chris Burke plays his sax during practice.
   Stephanie Miller practices her flute.
   The trumpet section: Tom Ferguson, Jaron Barney, Chris Green, and Andre Rivera.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT IN THE HALLS

There were a lot of new ideas in hall decorations this year. The sophomores were original with the main theme being a generic outlook. The Juniors brought the chilly outdoors indoors with shining "ice-cycles". The Seniors stuck with a Christmas tree type theme with brightly colored garlands draped throughout the hall, while the freshmen stayed traditional with their chimney scene hung with green and red stockings and balloons.

Christmas comes early. Student relax during the last day before the winter break.

- 1. Roger VanPutten, Mike Rolfe, and Matt Henderson helped Jack Frost out by hanging "ice-cycles".
- 2. Becky Rowe poses for the camera.
  3. Mike Hathaway frolics among the snowflakes.
  4. Freshmen doing their best.

R.O.T.C. marches to a demanding drummer.

In existance for eleven years, the ROTC program is one of the largest on campus. A ROTC student prepares for a possible military career, develops leadership skills, and learns to cope with life's challenges. ROTC offers such courses as the History of Flight, Navigation, Weather, Military Law and Leadership. The ROTC students received training in aerospace careers and learned the satisfisfaction of a job done well.

"Let the Stars Shine"

"Let the stars shine" was the theme for the twelth annual Aerospace Ball, which was held at the officers club at Travis Air Force Base. Master of ceromonies, Tom O'Baily. The honored guests present which included, Col. and Mrs. Wolfwinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Maniscalco.

The evening began with a formal reception. Following the reception the colors were presented by the color guard commanded by Jeff Sicard and Lee Davis.

The evenings main event started by the saber team demonstration commanded by Eric Fein, with Scott Drake, Russel Daje, Carlin Davis, Paul Elkins, and Brett Gilstrap.

The highlight of the evening was crowning of the Queen, Sue Daniels. The first runner up Patty Schwarz and second runner up Melissa Dulin.

Then came the traditional officer promotion for which the following earned the indicated . . . Russel Paje to C/Major, Jeff Bertany, Eric Fein, Mark Liechty to C/Captain, Sue Daniels and Carlin Davis to C/Lieutenant and Brett Gilsrap to C/2 Lieutenant. A.R.O.T.C. scholarship was announced to Scott Drake.

The remainder of the evening was spent on the dance floor. There was dancing to the 504 U.S.A.F. Band.

Success Consortium provides an alternative.

Are you behind in your classes? Is algebra a puzzle and English a mystery? The Success Consortium is for you. For the last four years this state funded program has been tutoring students in a wide range of subjects.

Operating out of the Career Center the programs ran after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Ms. Fout, the director, would like to see more people take advantage of this program.

Public Service students are community volunteers.

Seven years ago when Armijo switched to majors the public service student was born. Today forty students are involved in the areas of Public Safety and Judicial Services, and Social Services and Education.

The students worked in classrooms as aides and cadet teachers. Others patroled Fairfield as police cadets. Each student worked five to ten hours a week.

A student can become a public service major in his sophomore year and by his senior year he is ready for an independent study internship in his chosen field. This program is run by Ms. Fout.

Career Center opens new doors.

The career center provided numerous serves for the curious student. Not only did it have information on a wide variety of careers, it also provided information on scholarships, grants, and student loans. Students who wanted computer time could come to the center to use the computers. The career center is supervised by Ms. Fout.

This has been the first year of the Asian American Club, formed by our advisor Missium. It has served mainly as a social club, a chance for people of different Asian cultures to get to know one another and learn more about their backgrounds. The club, has consisted of members of many nationalities including students of Chinese, Japanese, Filipino, and Vietnamese backgrounds. In order to take advantage of these various cultures, we held several potlucks with Asian foods and even a bake sale so that others could enjoy these unique foods also with enough money earned from fundraisers, the Asian American Club plans to have a field trip for its members, Wewould like to thank Missium for her time and effort.

Indian Outpost

The Indian Outpost is truly a student store. The store is run by DECA (Distributive Marketing Education Club of America), students enrolled in business majors. Not only do the students gain a practical hands on experience in running a real store, they provide a valuable service to their fellow students.

Need a pencil, pen or notebook? Want the latest in Indian wear? Got the munchies? Go to the Indian Outpost. The operates before and after school and at lunch.

Speaking of the news . . .

Newspaper, a sixth period class, puts out the school paper, the Arrow. Students learn to draw layouts, conduct interviews, cover events, take pictures, and write copy. The advisor is Mrs. Fenner, a new teacher at Armijo, who took over for Mr. Sullivan.

- 1. Chris Roadcap, Tammy Reid, and Kelly McKay examine a layout, checking for errors.
- 2. Scott Rooozen and Paula Moyer discuss Scott's article.
- 3. Chris Roadcap explains the ins and outs of designing a layout to Tammy Reid.

Future Farmers of America

- 1. Sandy Marlette walks with one of the horses.

- 3. Joe Wade pets and feeds the rabbits.

- 4. Bobby Edney and Don Lynott talk during class.
- 5. Barbara Huddleston, Darla Tapley, and Laura Greenwood working hard.

A student day is a varied thing.

- 1. Riding the school bus is an experience shared by several hundred Armijo students. It often means getting up extra early.
- 2. Students take refuge in the hallway for a quiet lunch.
- 3. Isabel Harp hitches a ride with a friend.
- 4. Joey Carmona is one of the many students learning to operate a computer.
- 5. Many students prefer the independence of their own wheels.
- 6. Several Students take time off for a bit of horseplay.
- 7. Ralph Betton learns how to use a jigsaw from Mr. Chan.
- 8. Sooner or later everyone ends up in the library to read, study, relax, or meet friends.
- 9. The Indian Outpost, run by the DECA club, provides school supplies, accessories, snacks, and drinks.

Yearbook revolves around deadlines.

A yearbook staff lives and dies by the deadline. Everything revolves around getting it done on time. Interviewing people, covering sports and other events, drawing layouts, taking pictures, all this must be done right and on time. Somehow each staff rises to the occasion (more or less) and the book gets done.

This year's staff operated under the handicap of being exceedingly small which made for some tense deadlines. There is so much to cover in a school this size.

If you are interested in drawing, writing, photography, talking to people, and having your ideas count, yearbook is for you. Not only that you get credit for it. It gives you a chance to use your imagination without sitting at a desk all period.

There's no business like show business.

Mr. Grzeskowiak, Armijo's new drama teacher, works hard to get the most out of his students. The Drama I students work hard practicing body movement, mime, make up and other theatrical skills. Mr. Grzeskowiak's drama students form the backbone of Armijo's dramatic troop. Their first play was an ambitious production of ARSENIC AND OLD LACE.

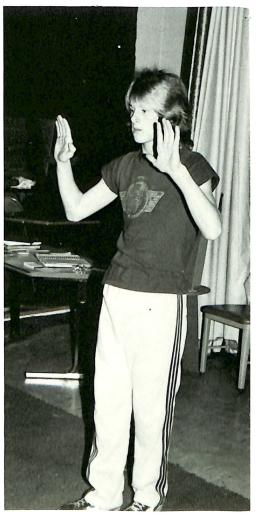

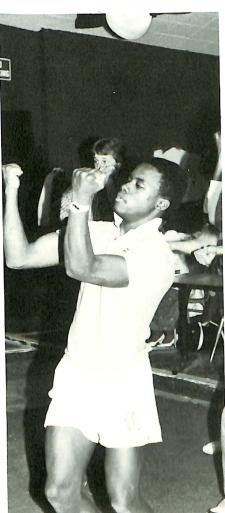

- 2. The class works hard perfecting its body movements.
- 3. Rick Wagstaff performs a mime routine.
- 4. Mr. G demonstrates the technique.

   Tracy concentrates on the exercise.
   Mr. G leads the class in an exercise in imagination.

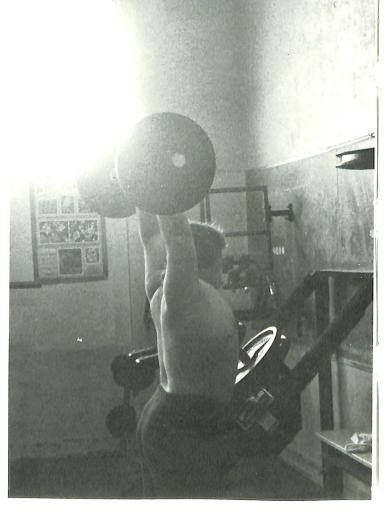

P.E. In Action

Draftsmen draw the line.

David Day, a veteran Armijo teacher, teaches beginning and intermediate drafting. Mr. Day, a stickler for detail, has made the drafting classes a challenge for students who want to reach beyond the ordinary.

Technical drawing calls upon good hand-eye coordination, an eye for detail, and patience to get it right. It's a good choice for someone looking for something different.

- 1. Chris Baker tries to organize his work.
- 2. Robert Wallace pauses to admire his work.
- 3. Shawn Graham is almost finished with his work.
- 4. Total concentration is the rule
- 5. Adam Wallich takes a break.
- 6. Robert Walstrum and Rick Marshall examine their work.

SENIORS

Dedicated to the Seniors May you cherish each moment and make it the best. Dare to be different from all the rest. Be sure to look to the future with conficence, For what you have now will soon be your past. Don't forget what you have learned and who you've become. Don't be afraid to dream and never give up hope, For your dreams are your Hearts desires ... your goals you will find inside.

What do you think of this year's freshmen?

Stephanie Bell: They're getting smaller and smaller every year. I like having them around; they remind me of when I was a freshman.

Irmgard Schnapp: They're really cool. Most of my friends are fresh, man!

Jessica Salas: This year's freshmen are small, but looks can be deceiving. They're easy to get along with and fun to be with.

Connie Parsons: Usually freshmen are annoying, but this year they're pretty cool, even though they are midgets.

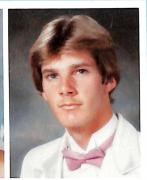

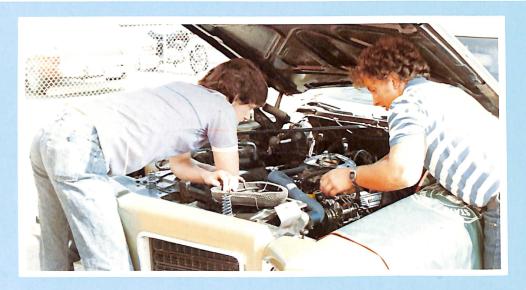

John Baxter Cami Beckerdite Stephanie Bell Terry Bennett

David Benton Alicia Bermudez Kathy Beshak Chris Blackburn

Eric Booze Cindy Borrill Jenny Breed Michelle Brezina

Carlton Bush David Byers Angela Caicido Maria Calderon

How do you feel about this year's fashions?

James Ordillas: The fashions are updated around here, a lot of New Wave styles and bright colors, but they're all right.

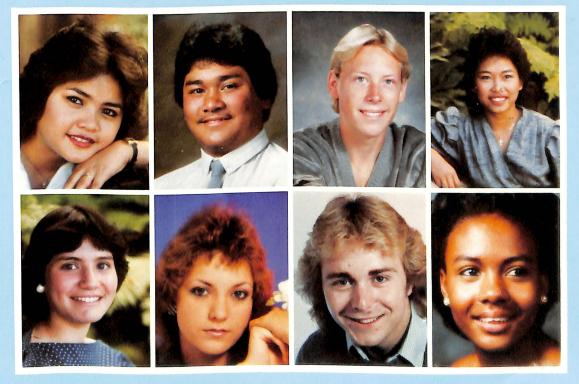

Thomas G. Van Dyke: They're not bad if you are wearing a pair of welding goggles. They're also good for signaling passing airplanes.

Tina Stovall: They're unusual, but they show a lot of self expression.

Carol Lewis: They're a lot better than last year's fashions and there is a larger assortment of colors.

Leonora Calvo Leonardo Caoile Robert Capp Mostiola Carogan

Kathleen Clark Diana Clemmons Kim Cline Georgina Cole

Janice Cooper Kevin Cornist Joe Cota Barbara Coustier

If you were a teacher, what rules would you set?

G. Christopher Roadcap: I think that cocoa cola should be allowed in class all the time.

Gina Wilson: Underclassmen must do all the seniors homework without complaint on a mandatory basis—and do "A" work.

Russell S. Paje: I would allow the students to eat and drink in the classroom.

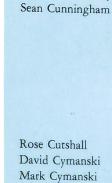

Marcelle Mosher: Be on time or don't bother coming at all.

How do you feel about marriage?

Cathie Gunther: I think marriage is very special and I look forward to one day being married.

Carrie Cook: I believe marriage is really good if it is with the right person and you both have positive attitudes for it.

Toby White: I think it's wonderful as long as the dedication to each other and committment continues to exist between them.

Nicole Holdener: I believe a marrage can be successful if you are fortunate enough to find the right person, and you can express love, communicate and be considerate of the other person.

What's the most important thing you have learned in the last four years?

John Pearl: I have found that friends are not always forever, but memories are.

Ron Helling: The most important thing I have learned in the past four years is who I really am. I have opened up and totally changed my life style. It would also be my four years of electronics. I'm on my way to Walt Disney Productions!

Paul Mansell: The most important thing that I have learned is that you should only compare yourself with yourself, because if you compare yourself to other people you'll never get anywhere. It's yourself that counts.

Mitch Mashburn: I've learned to be more open minded toward other people. I've had to change my views on many things since moving here, and I'm still changing.

What's the one thing you would do over if given the opportunity?

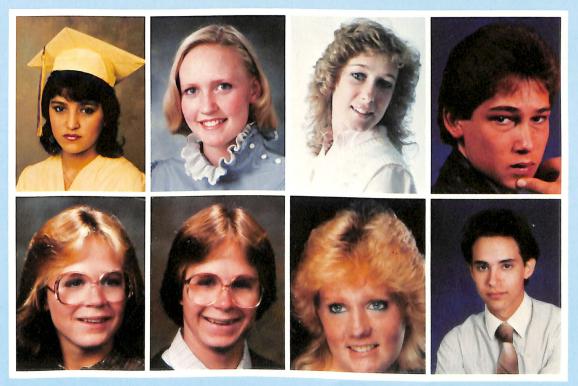

Leslie Owens: I would go through my business major again because the teachers are great!

Mark Cymanski: I think that I would want to make the lunch period a half an hour longer.

Eric Gomez: I would have straightened up my grades and done better in my freshman and sophomore years.

Debbie Reed: I would go through Superband again because I enjoy the people.

What is the strangest thing that has happened to you at Armijo?

David Benton: I purchase and drove the one and only "meatwagon" at Armijo.

Chris Collins: Being called into the office for getting into an egg fight off campus.

Mike Trosky: The strangest thing that has happened to me was becoming a parasite on society as a freshman, and then growing up to be a Super Stud as a senior.

Walter Crawford: Well, I've noticed that a lot of people have tried to be different, but they have only conformed by trying not to conform. It's just a cycle. Funny clothes and hair . . . it's all conforming by not conforming, seems strange, hunh?

TO: Mark McBurney
The best son anyone could hope for. Thank you, I love you.
FROM: Mom

TO: David Combs
Proud when you were born
To become our number 2 son.
Proud when you started to school,
And see how you did excell.
Proud of sports, baseball, basketball,
and football,
When we watched you play, Oh! How we did yell.
Proud we will be able to see your
High School graduation,
And see you on to higher education . . .
LOVE: Dad and Mom

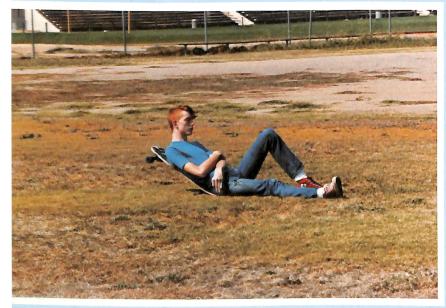

TO: Jennifer Jones
That she's my little girl is a lucky
work of fate,
As a friend and daughter she's absolutely first rate;
I'll be sad to see her go when she selects a mate,
But for now I'm proud and happy,
She's going to graduate.
FROM: your loving Mom

TO: Keith Fuller Remember life is as easy or as hard as you make it. We have enjoyed having you with us. FROM: Mom and Ron

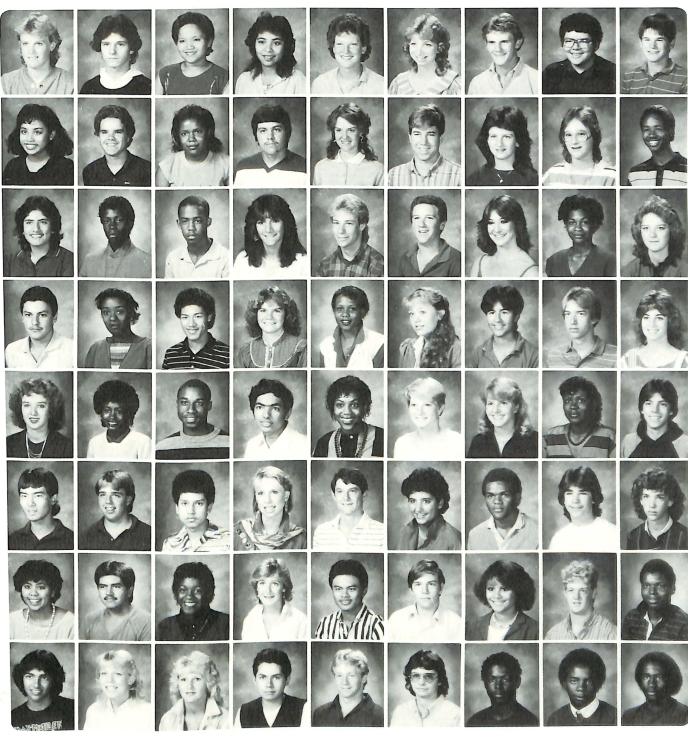

TO: Shawn Goss Congratulations for reaching this goal: Have pride in yourself in reaching all your goals. FROM: Myrtle Goss (Mom)

Activities

Future Business Leaders of America

The Future Business Leaders of America is a club that prepares the student for occupations in the business world. Business courses offered will help the FBLA member to understand the different careers in the business world and choose the right one for him.

Future Homemakers of America

Armijo is proud to welcome a new club called, FHA Future Homemakers of America. This club has been in the Bay Area for quite a while. It is organized and taken care of by Mrs. Lee, and Mrs. Tutujian. Although there is not a great number of people in the club, they hope it will grow as the years progress. This year they put on a dance that was quite successful. Good luck to all of you FHA'ers, we hope your club is a big success.

Black Student Union

This year the Black Student Union was quite active. They put on a fabulous fashion show and a dance that really turned out great. Over the past couple of years the BSU club has been dedicated to serving the school. Keep up the good work!

Clay Lee (Pres.), Nicole Baglin (V.Pres.), Sherry Atkins (Sec.). Venita Davis, Nicole Nears, Marcee Howard, Shawn Goss, Terri Jackson, Angela Bennett, Joycelyn Vinson, Karen Allen, Melody Tovar, Marshette Nickson, Toresa Hill, Donna Gent, Christal Atkinson, Shawn Byrd, Carmen Wellington, Janique Harris, Becky Blake, Kiki Ashford, Leinda Davis.

D.E.C.A. trains business leaders.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America (D.E.C.A.) offers business majors a chance to explore the world of marketing and sales. Students enroll in Sales and Retail classes, work at Solano Mall, and run the student store. They attend conventions and workshops, learning about the latest advances in marketing. Mr. Gutowski is the advisor.

FILIPINO-AMERICAN TEEN CLUB

The Fil-Am Teen Club was one of the most active organizations at Armijo High. They raised money by sponsoring dances, selling candy, and selling their ever-popular Lumpia. (Mmmm!)

The Fil-Am club also gave a scholarship to an Armijo student of Filipino ancestry.

Ms. Fout was the advisor for Fil-Am and contributed much time into it. She was an important key to its success.

Peter Haber, the club president, was also a main factor to the Fil-Am club's highly productive work.

Congratulations for Fantastic "84-85" year!

OFFICERS: President, Peter Haber; Vice, Marisa Dominguez; Treasurer, Romie Aromin; Secretary, Clarissa Resultan.

Bank of America sponsors school

In a new program launched this year Bank of America has agreed to sponser Armijo and Fairfield Highs. Armijo was sponsered by the downtown branch on Texas Street. Mrs. Willie Messer worked with assistant principal Gwen Lawton to assure the success of this program.

As part of the program Mr. Messer came and spoke about careers in banking, other bank employees came and provided one on one tutoring in the business classes. Later on students were allowed to "shadow" bank employees to see what it might be like to work in a bank.

Indians capture awards in Lions Speech Contest.

Six students participated in the first of a series of speech contests. For over two months the students worked with Mrs. Radesky to strengthen their public speaking skills.

The subject for the first contest was "Television-Master or Servant". All the hard work paid off when Leo Holt and Janel Johnsen won.

AFS sponsers Sweetheart Dancce; King and Queen elected.

The American Field Service Club sponsered a Sweetheart Dance presided over by the King and Queen of Hearts: Alex Alverez and Margie Moore. Students danced to the music provided by QUAKE.

The king and queen were elected by a majority of their loyal subjects at the cost of a penny a vote. The money raised went to the AFS program which helps bring foreign students to American and helps American students go abroad, the goal is to create a better understanding between the peoples of the world. AFS is sponsered by Ms. Fout and Mr. Sullivan.

Arsenic and Old Lace: Murder, Mayhem, and Fun

The Drama Club's first project, ARSENIC AND OLD LACE, was an ambitious project. The story of the crazy Brewster clan has been popular for years. Mortimer Brewster, the only sane member of the clan was played by Joe Sheffo. The two maiden aunts with a penchant for murder were played by Danielle Barnes and Nabiha Jacobs. Terry Esskew was the psychopathic brother, Jonathan Brewster. Bruce Walton was Teddy Brewster who kept charging up San Juan Hill. Jimmy Anderson was the detective.

- 1. Mortimer (Joe Sheffo) discovers the first body (Tammy Ables).
- 2. Jimmy Anderson, the detective questions the suspects.
- 3. Behind the scenes with Tammy and Michelle.
- 4. Mortimer finds himself in a perilous situation.
- 5. Mortimer discusses his problems.
- 6. The detective questions Teddy Brewster.
- 7. Ty Burgess, Jonathan's faithful assistant, waits for instructions.

BSU the word is style.

One of the most popular events sponsered by the Black Student Unions was the BSU Fashion Show, held during the Christmas season. The members worked hard to transform the cafeteria into an elegant models showroom. The models walked proudly displaying their outfits to the best advantage.

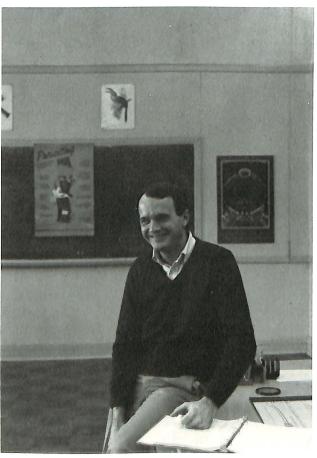

- 1. Terry and Melissa show off elegant evening attire.
- 2. Nicole Nears displays her modeling style.
- 3. Karen Allen, Marshette Nickson, and Shawn Byrd take a bow
- 4. The BSU displays their fashion sense.
- 5. Denise Brown models her gown to a definite advantage.

AMÉRICAN FIELD SERVICE INTERNATIONAL/INTERCULTURAL PROGRAMS — AFS

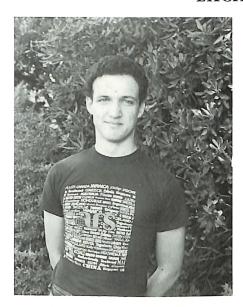

AFS is an international organization which conducts a variety of international learning experiences. Thirty-six years ago some farsighted volunteers created AFS to promote peace and international understanding through programs that bridge cultural differences. AFS is known for its year-long international high school exchange programs.

EXCHANGE STUDENT INFORMATION

ALEX ALVAREZ: Comes from David, Panama. Has three brothers in Panama. Enjoys athletic events. Was a member of the wrestling team this year at Armijo. Likes "Burger King!" ## Parlez-vous français? Sprechen Sie deutch? Habla espanol?

Students have their choice of Spanish, French, or German. Some students take a foreign language because it is a college requirement; others take it because their parents make them. Some students, however, take a foreign language because they enjoy the challenge and sense of accomplishment. Being able to speak a second language is helpful in a world where the farthest country is hours away.

BUSINESS IS LOOKING UP

The business department was chosen for an unusual honor. The State Department of Education selected Armijo as a model secondary vocational office and marketing and distributive education training programs to prepare students for employment in the high demand computer center occupations.

Along with Hogan High and College Park High, Armijo was selected as a computer-based Business Education Model Site. The business department infused computer education throughout their curriculum. Computers were used in typing, computer awareness, business machines/math, word processing, accounting and marketing. Business machines/math meets our districts graduation requirements as a second year of math.

In advanced vocational preparation intensive computer application experience is provided using sophisticated data base and spreadsheet programs.

Deca, FBLA and the student store operations played an integral parts of Armijo's Business Programs.

As part of this program, the business department hosted a workshop on October 15, 1984 to demonstrate their program.

Tricia: Do you like the fast food restaurants

Angela: Yes, but I prefer much spicier foods. Tricia: What are the most difficult aspects of American life for you?

Angela: The lifestyle is too fast and busy. Columbia is more relaxed.

Tricia: What was most difficult for you to adjust to?

Angela: It's difficult for me to live in such a little town. My house here is in the country and in Colombia I lived in a big city. The first couple of weeks after I got here, it was confusing. I couldn't adjust to the life in the U.S.A. I had a new family, new home, and now I have a brother and a sister. I Colombia I was an only child.

Tricia: Is the day in the U.S.A. diffrent from that of Colombia's?

Angela: Yes. The day starts later. People here get up early. We get up later and stay up later.

Tricia: What things are different?

Angela: Schooling is diffrent. Most people who live in Colombia go to private schools.

Tricia: Tell me about some of your bad experiences?

Angela: Some friends invited me to a movie. We saw ROMANCING THE STONE.

THANK YOU, ANGELA MACAICEDO

This movie is about Colombia, but it only shows the bad aspects. Some parts are even filmed in Mexico and they say it's Colombia. When I was finished watching this movie I was upset.

Tricia: People say that Colombia exports a lot of MARIJUANA? Is this true?

Angela: Yes, even though it is illegal, Colombia does export a lot of marijuana. The problem with marijuana is it is all over the world. Really the Colombian people don't smoke it much, but other countries ask Colombia to export the grass. I think if other countries wouldn't ask we would not to have to export it. The Colombian government is working hard to stop the problem.

Tricia: Is there any diffrence with the people here?

Angela: Yes, the guys are very shy here. They can't express their feelings as easily as the guys in Colombia. I really appreciate how nice the people are. They don't laugh at me when I try to talk.

Angela: Sometimes I have a bad accent on a certain word I cant say, but they try to help me.

Hall Patrol: Friend or Foe?

Is Armijo a prison? Contrary to all belief, the hall patrol staff are nice people doing their job. Just because they work for Armijo High Prison (ha-ha), doesn't mean that they aren't helpful or friendly.

Ronald E. Robinson, who patrols the main campus is the kind of person you can talk to. He is a joker and very photogenic, Ron always wants his picture taken.

Claudia Burlingham is an easy going person, but only if you are polite to her. When the weather is warm you can see her riding her bike. So if you see her going down the street, wave.

Josephine Abara patrols the parking lot and annex. She is very friendly to everybody except those who lay scratch or smoke in the parking lot.
